Nathalie Bonafe Website Privacy Policy

Last updated: October 30, 2026

Thank you for visiting our website. Nathalie Bonafé is committed to respecting your online privacy and protecting any information you share. This Privacy Policy explains what information is collected through this website and how it is used. Please read this policy in its entirety before using the site. By using the site, you accept the practices described in this policy.

We may update this policy in the future. Any changes will be posted on this page and will apply only to activities and information going forward, not retroactively. We encourage you to review this page each time you visit our site.

Notice to Website Viewers

This website is provided for informational and educational purposes only. The content on this site, including blog posts, videos, and webinars, is not medical advice and is not a substitute for diagnosis or treatment from your physician or other licensed health care provider. Using this site does not establish a doctor-patient relationship. Always consult your physician about your health and before making changes to your care.

Testimonials and descriptions of support offerings on this website are for informational purposes only and do not guarantee specific results. Individual experiences vary.

If you are experiencing a medical emergency, call 911 or go to the nearest emergency room. Do not use this website, its forms, or its email links to seek emergency help, as they are not monitored for urgent communications.

Scope of This Policy

This Privacy Policy applies only to the website nathaliebonafe.com (the "Site").

This policy does not apply to the third-party platforms linked from or embedded on the Site, including Calendly (consultation scheduling). Those platforms are governed by their own privacy policies.

Collected Information

This Site collects personal information only when you choose to provide it through the following forms:

- Booking request form: your name, contact information, whether you are a new or current client, how you heard about us, and your appointment preferences
- Webinar registration forms: your name and email address, so we can give you access to the free webinar series

Information you submit through these forms is sent to Nathalie Bonafé and may be stored on the Site. It is used to respond to your request, schedule appointments, provide webinar access, and send related updates. You can ask to stop receiving emails at any time by contacting us.

Complimentary consultations can also be scheduled through Calendly. When you use Calendly, you are directed to that platform, and the information you provide is governed by its privacy practices.

Log Files & Technical Data

Like many websites, nathaliebonafe.com uses log files and automated analytics tools. The information collected may include:

- IP address
- Browser type and version
- Device type (desktop, mobile, or tablet)
- General location (city or region)
- Pages visited and time spent on each page
- Referring and exit pages
- Clicks, including on the "Book Now" and "Let's Talk" buttons
- Date and time of visit

This information is used to analyze trends, administer the Site, understand how visitors use the Site, and measure the performance of our online advertising.

Google Analytics, Google Ads & Google Tag Manager

This Site uses Google Tag Manager, Google Analytics and Google Ads, which are services provided by Google LLC. These tools use cookies and similar technologies to collect the technical information described above, including identifiers that allow Google to recognize returning visitors.

We use this information to understand how visitors use the Site and to measure the performance of our advertising on Google. Google may use the information it collects in accordance with its own Privacy Policy. You can learn more in How Google uses information from sites or apps that use its services.

You can opt out of or limit this data collection by:

- Managing your ad preferences through Google's ad settings
- Installing the Google Analytics Opt-out Browser Add-on
- Adjusting your browser's cookie settings, as described below

Cookies & Tracking Technologies

Our Site uses cookies and similar tracking technologies, including those set by Google's tools and by embedded content such as videos hosted on Vimeo. Cookies may be used to enable basic site functionality, remember visitor preferences, collect usage data, and measure advertising performance.

You can control or disable cookies at any time through your browser settings. Please note that disabling cookies may affect certain features of the Site, such as embedded video playback. For more information on managing cookies, visit your browser's help documentation.

Shared Information

We may use other businesses to perform services for us, such as hosting and maintaining our Site. We provide information to those businesses only when necessary for them to perform their duties. We may also share information with government agencies or others when required or permitted by law.

This website is managed by an outside website management company on behalf of Nathalie Bonafé. That company may access website analytics and form submissions only as needed to maintain the Site, and is not permitted to use your information for its own purposes.

We will not sell or share your personal information with unaffiliated third parties for their own marketing purposes.

Third-Party Services & Linked Sites

Our Site is built on WordPress and links to or embeds the following third-party platforms, which collect information according to their own privacy policies:

Calendly, Vimeo, Instagram, Facebook, LinkedIn, and YouTube. Except for embedded Vimeo videos, no information is shared with these companies unless you click through to their sites.

Those sites may send their own cookies, collect data, or request personal information. We are not responsible for the privacy practices of other websites and cannot guarantee the security of information collected on those sites. We encourage you to read the privacy policy of any external site before using it.

Health Information

This website is not a secure channel for health information. Please do not include health details, medical records, Social Security numbers, or other sensitive information in website forms or emails sent through the Site. Personal health matters can be discussed privately during your consultation.

Data Security

We take reasonable measures to protect information collected through our Site. However, no method of transmission over the internet or electronic storage is completely secure, and we cannot guarantee absolute security.

If a data breach affects your personal information, we will notify affected individuals and the appropriate authorities as required by law.

Data Retention

We keep information collected through the Site, including form submissions, only as long as needed for the purposes described in this policy, unless a longer period is required by law. Aggregated analytics data that cannot identify you may be kept longer.

Contact Us

We reserve the right to make changes to this Privacy Policy. Any updates will be posted on this page with a revised "Last updated" date. If you have any questions or concerns about this Privacy Policy, or would like to update or delete information you have submitted, please contact us at:
